Details: Our Wofford College tradition of tolling the college bell in memory of Wofford Alumni and friends will be held at Noon today. The names of those we remember will be read as the bell is tolled. Wofford College tolls the bell for students on three occasions: their first week on campus, the weekend they graduate, and the year of their deaths. Students, staff and faculty are invited to pause on the Yorke Portico (Main Building) for this important moment.

2008 Flexlink Open Enrollment

Details: Wofford College has elected to enroll your Flexible Spending Account (FSA) plan through the Flores automated enrollment system. You will have the opportunity to make your 2008 elections via the Flores interactive voice system, TeleFLEX, or through their internet site, Flores247.com from Nov. 1 to Dec. 1. If you elect to enroll through the Flores247.com Internet site you must enter a PIN number. Your PIN is the same number you currently use to access your FSA information on-line. If you have not previously accessed and/or changed your PIN number, then your PIN will be the last 4 digits of your Social Security number. You can access either system between Nov. 1 and Dec. 1. Simply follow the instructions as presented when you call TeleFLEX or access Flores247.com to make your 2008 elections. The number and/or address you will need to enroll is listed below: Internet – www.Flores247.com; TeleFLEX - 800-726-9978. If you have any questions please contact Flores at 800-532-3327 outside the Charlotte calling area or at 704-335-8211 within the Charlotte calling area. DIRECT DEPOSIT NOTE: If you already have established a direct deposit with Flores then you are set for the 2008 plan year. You will not need to complete another authorization form. However, if you wish to establish a direct deposit with Flores for the first time you will need to complete the authorization form available on the enrollment site. This signed authorization will need to be faxed to Flores at the toll free number indicated on the form. All direct deposit information will be pre-noted through the ACH system for accuracy. Please allow up to 10 working days for activation.

Campus Lecture by Professor Machovec

Date/Time: 11/7/2007 11:00:00 AM

Location: Olin Theater

Cost: Free

Details: Please join Dr. Frank Machovec in the Olin Theater at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 8th, for an exploration of the lost meaning of Armistice Day (Nov. 11th). A fast-moving, 60-minute historical lecture (supported with 60 color-photo slides) will examine numerous unfamiliar topics on The Great War (as the First World War was called before 1940). Some of the highlights will be the praiseworthy role of Canada; the U.S. Army's novel solution to the American race problem that erupted in France; the medical revolution spurred by battle-wound reconstructive surgery; and WWI's legacy of adamant grass-roots isolationism that circumscribed U.S. foreign policy during the late 1930s. The presentation will conclude with several examples of the stark anti-war paintings of George Grosz, plus an illustrated reading of heart-warming, soldier-written poetry. Finally, every attendee will be given three souvenirs to commemorate those who died 90 years ago. Open to the public.

QUINTESSENTIAL... A WOFFORD EDUCATION

November 5, 2007

Dear Wofford Faculty and Staff,

It is an exciting time to be in Spartanburg--and Spartanburg Marriott is proud to be working with several of you at Wofford College with Homecoming, Parents Weekend, Commencement, etc.

Over the past couple of years, we have learned that many "association groups" are hosted by various college departments. A few of these groups that we've had the privilege of working with you on are:

- ◆ Southeastern Medieval Association
- ◆ Association of Southeastern Biologists
- ◆ Association for Study of Literature and the Environment - ASLE

You can continue to feel confident that Marriott Spartanburg has plenty of flexible space because of the following features/amenities:

- ◆ 30,000+ square feet of meeting space
- ◆ 1,500 people maximum in our largest ballroom
- ◆ 27 meeting rooms
- ◆ Largest hotel conference space between Charlotte and Atlanta
- ◆ 247 oversized guest rooms
- ◆ Assistance w/ materials such as CD presentations, brochures, etc.

As you attend your professional conferences and participate in your scholarly associations during the upcoming 2008 year, we would be ever-so-grateful to be considered as a potential location for future conferences and events.

I would be delighted make an appointment with you to discuss future potential opportunities! Please feel free to contact me at 864-591-3110 or melodie.fulbright@marriott.com.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Melodie Fulbright". The script is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of each name being capitalized and prominent.

Date: November 5, 2007 at 3:55 PM
To: Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu

To the Wofford Campus Community:

At 11 a.m. tomorrow (Tuesday, Nov. 6), we will conduct a test of the Wofford Emergency Alert System. The system will be tested at this same time – 11 a.m. on the first Tuesday of each month – during the academic year.

If you have not already done so, we urge you to register your cell phone and/or email address to receive these important alerts.

Please register by midnight tonight (Monday, Nov. 5,) so that you can be included in the test. (Registration will be available any time, but to be included in the upcoming test, you must register by the deadline.)

Register at <http://www.wofford.edu/emergencysignup.aspx>. (If you experience difficulties registering, please contact Laura Corbin at x4180 or at laura.corbin@wofford.edu.)

PRIZES will be awarded tomorrow afternoon, with winners selected from registered and validated users of the system. The winners will be notified, and will be announced in Wednesday's Daily Announcements.

The new Wofford College Emergency Alert System, powered by Omnilert Network e2Campus, will be used to instantly reach students, faculty, staff, and parents of major emergencies affecting campus. The system will deliver messages to mobile phones, pagers, e-mail, Web browser and other wireless data devices, such as PDAs.

This service is an important element of Wofford's larger strategy to enhance communications during an emergency. Our goal is to increase safety on the Wofford College campus.

Other means of communicating to the campus community include blast e-mails through Wofford e-mail accounts; Web site postings; blast voice-mails to on-campus telephones; and notifications throughout residence halls, classroom and administrative buildings by residence advisors, residence directors, administrative staff and others. Depending on the situation, Wofford College will use some or all of these redundant means of communications

We urge all students, faculty and staff to register for the Emergency Alert System that provides text messaging and other capabilities.

This is an opt-in service, so you must register in order to receive these emergency notifications; you will be able to change your preferences (telephone or email, for example) or opt-out at any time.

For more on the Wofford Emergency Alert System, please go to <http://www.wofford.edu/emergencysignup.aspx>.

If you have problems or questions, contact Laura Corbin at x4180 or laura.corbin@wofford.edu.

Re: Wofford Recyclers

The Campus Union, the Campus Safety Officers and the Intramurals and Recreation Office invite you to the Blessing of the Bikes and the first campus ride at 4 pm tomorrow, Wednesday, November 7, 2007, on the College Seal in front of the Main Building. At that time we will release the bicycles that Wofford has purchased for your use and enjoyment. If you would like to ride one of these bikes tomorrow afternoon, please email me (albergottmf@wofford.edu) today. If you have your own bike, please ride it to Main and join in the Blessing of the Bikes!

We think these green bicycles will promote healthy living, make travel across campus faster, and make travel into and around Spartanburg easier and more environmentally friendly than driving a car. Any member of the Wofford community is invited to use these bicycles to ride around campus and to ride into the local community. The Maintenance Department has purchased and installed bike racks around campus. Campus Union thanks them for their support of our new program.

To assure that this program is successful, we remind you of the Recyclers' guidelines:

1. A lock has been purchased for each bike; keep the lock with the bike.
2. "1854" is the code to unlock any bike.
3. Return and lock the bike to a bike rack on campus.
4. Bikes may not be reserved.
5. Contact a Campus Safety Officer at 864/597-4911, if a bike needs air in the tires or some type of repair.
6. Remember pedestrians have the right of way.
7. Ride in the same direction as vehicular traffic.
8. Obey traffic signals.
9. Be alert at all times.

Join us for refreshments and give-aways. too

WOFFORD NEWS UPDATE

NOVEMBER 6, 2007

Wofford Writers Series presents poet Gil Allen Nov. 12

 What is RSS?

SPARTANBURG, S.C. - The Wofford College Writers Series will present South Carolina poet Gil Allen on Monday, Nov. 12.

Allen will conduct an informal question-and-answer session at 4:30 p.m. in Shipp Hall Lounge, and at 7:45 p.m. he will provide a reading in the Olin Teaching Theater in the Franklin W. Olin Building. Both events are free and open to the public.

Allen's most recent collection of poems, "Driving to Distraction," was published by Orchises Press and featured on Garrison Keillor's "The Writer's Almanac." He has three other published collections, "In Everything," "Second Chances," and "Commandments at Eleven," which was chosen as one of the year's five most outstanding books by South Carolina's principal newspaper, The State. His poems, essays and stories have won numerous awards and have been featured in such publications as "The American Scholar," "The Southern Review," and "Quarterly West."

Allen is currently a professor of English at Furman University. He has lectured about his poetry at colleges, literary festivals, and libraries throughout the Southeast. He has also appeared frequently on South Carolina Public Radio.

The Writers Series has been an important resource for the Wofford literary community since 1984. It has brought to campus four to five writers each year, ranging from the Nobel Prize-winning poet Seamus Heaney to promising and important regional writers, such as George Singleton, all of whom read from their works and meet informally with students, faculty and guests. The writers provide an insider's understanding of the literary process and inspiration for all who put words on a page.

Campus Lecture by Professor MachovecDate/Time: 11/8/2007 11:00:00 AMLocation: Olin TheaterCost: FreeDetails: Please join Dr. Frank Machovec in the Olin Theater at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 8, for an exploration of the lost meaning of Armistice Day (Nov. 11). A fast-moving, 60-minute historical lecture (supported with 60 color-photo slides) will examine numerous unfamiliar topics on The Great War (as the First World War was called before 1940). Some of the highlights will be the praiseworthy role of Canada; the U.S. Army's novel solution to the American race problem that erupted in France; the medical revolution spurred by battle-wound reconstructive surgery; and WWI's legacy of adamant grass-roots isolationism that circumscribed U.S. foreign policy during the late 1930s. The presentation will conclude with several examples of the stark anti-war paintings of George Grosz, plus an illustrated reading of heart-warming, soldier-written poetry. Finally, every attendee will be given three souvenirs to commemorate those who died 90 years ago. To: Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu

To the Wofford Campus Community:

ARAMARK Food Services and Wofford College are pleased to announce that Zach's Food Court will begin a substantial renovation later this month. Therefore, Zach will close on Tuesday, Nov. 20, when students begin Thanksgiving Break. It will remain under construction for the duration of the Fall Semester and Interim Term. While the renovation is taking place, here are some Dining Service options that will be available.

- Burwell Dining Hall will open for lunch at 11 a.m. Monday-Friday.
- Lunch will be available from the concession stands at each end of the Chapman Gallery in the Campus Life Building Monday-Friday. The stand closest to Snyder Field will offer a "Sandwich of the Day" and Soup. The stand closest to the Campus Life parking lot will offer a grill item with chips. Each stand will have whole fruit, cookies and fountain beverages available as well.
- Java City in the Campus Life Building will expand its Grab-n-Go Lunch program with more salads and sandwiches. We also will be offering bottled beverages, sushi and snacks.
- Burwell Dining Hall will open from 8 to 11 p.m. each night for evening purchases. The Grill, Deli and Pizza Stations will be available along with fountain beverages, bottled beverages, and snacks.

Association of Multicultural Students Thanksgiving Outreach Basket Drive

Details: The 2007 Association of Multicultural Students Thanksgiving Outreach Basket Drive begins today to collect dry goods donations for 20-25 local families in the Spartanburg community; thus, these families would have the opportunity to enjoy many of the Thanksgiving traditions and celebrations that many of our families have been blessed with over the years. This Thanksgiving will mark the 2nd anniversary of the community enrichment program's existence. In addition, AMS has continued to work with local churches since 2005 to insure that families, who are designated as in-need, will receive not only a meal basket of traditional Thanksgiving dishes and delicacies, but also, a sense of the spirit of the 'giving' holiday that has diffused through the ages from the original feast. The basket drive will continue from today until Saturday, November 17, 2007. Although it is not necessarily your duty, I urge that you individually donate at least 1 canned good for the project. Drop-off zones are located near both entrances to the Commons as well as near the entrances in Dupre, Shipp, Marsh, Wightman and Lesesne Halls, and the entrances to the Burwell and the Milliken Science buildings. Through this action, you will bring more joy to these families than can ever be measured. Thank you for your attention.

Staff Appointment: Hudson Green

Details: I am pleased to announce that Hudson Green has joined our Development team as a part-time major gifts officer, and is assigned to working with Smith Patterson in working with major prospects in expanding our planned gift opportunities. As Associate Director of Gift Planning, Hudson will focus primarily on raising major gifts via bequests and other trust instruments, as well as outright gifts. More specifically, he will focus on major endowed funding for the Success Initiative program and other scholarship needs. Hudson comes to us from Marietta College in Ohio where he was Director of Planned Giving for eight years. He and his wife, Marilyn, moved to Spartanburg over a year ago and are permanent residents of the area. Hudson brings excellent experience to the position in addition to his previous campus work, including some 20 years in the banking profession as a corporate vice president and chief trust officer at Citizens Federal Bank in Dayton, Ohio and First Valley Bank in Bethlehem, Pa. We look forward to working with Hudson in this new position. Please give Hudson a warm welcome to Wofford!

ONE Campus Challenge

Details: To the Wofford campus community: As you may already know, Wofford is now a ONE campus and has joined the ONE Campus Challenge to help make poverty history. We are currently ranked 12th in the nation in the standings for the colleges with the most points.

The new ONE Campus Challenge is a way to get college students involved in and raise awareness about the ONE campaign.

ONE is Americans of all beliefs and every walk of life - united as ONE - to help make poverty history. As ONE, we are raising public awareness about the issues of global poverty, hunger, disease and efforts to fight such problems in the world's poorest countries. As ONE, we are asking our leaders to do more to fight the emergency of global AIDS and extreme poverty. ONE believes that allocating more of the U.S. budget toward providing basic needs like health, education, clean water and food would transform the futures and hopes of an entire generation in the world's poorest countries.

If you have not already, you can visit <http://one.org/> for more information about the ONE campaign.

Also, visit our campus webpage for the ONE Campus Challenge at

Join the Terriers for the NCAA Football Selection Show

With Wofford College earning the Southern Conference's automatic bid to the NCAA FCS Playoffs, the Terriers will learn their opponent on Sunday, Nov. 18, at 3:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend a special viewing party with the Wofford football team at 3 p.m. Sunday. The viewing party will take place at Leonard Auditorium inside Main Building on the Wofford campus. The event will begin at 3 p.m. with a series of short highlights of several games from the 2007 season.

At approximately 3:15, Southern Conference commissioner John Iamarino will present Wofford head coach Mike Ayers and the Terriers with the Conference's FCS automatic bid certificate and the Southern Conference Championship trophy.

At 3:30 p.m. the FCS playoff brackets will be announced live on ESPNU. The selection show is a half-hour program.

The viewing party will conclude at 4 p.m. in the Yorke Family Portico outside Main Building as the Wofford Alumni Office will have refreshments and light snacks for those in attendance and fans will have an opportunity to get autographs from the Terriers.

A limited amount of Southern Conference football championship apparel also will be available after the event. Ben Wofford Books will have apparel available at its location on North Church Street (on campus) beginning Monday, Nov. 19.

For information, contact Brent Williamson at x4093.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
November 20, 2007

NCAA DIVISION I PLAYOFFS ON CSS

Network to air James Madison at Appalachian State and

Wofford at Montana Games

Atlanta, GA - Comcast / Charter Sports Southeast (CSS) announces it will broadcast two key NCAA Division I FCS playoff games on Saturday, November 24, 2007.

Coverage of the first round matchups begins at noon ET with live coverage of James Madison at Southern Conference champion's Appalachian State University.

The action continues at 3:30 pm ET with delayed telecast between Southern Conference representative Wofford College and the University of Montana.

"CSS is proud to offer exciting Division I-AA action with two games that feature two outstanding programs from our region," said CSS General Manager Mark Fuhrman. "Appalachian State's accomplishments are well documented, including their season-opening upset of then highly ranked powerhouse Michigan and Wofford's season includes a victory over that same Appalachian State as well as a share atop the Southern Conference final standings. CSS strives to bring our viewers very best college football action available."

About CSS Network

CSS is a 24-hour regional sports network serving approximately 5.8 million cable subscribers across twelve southeastern states. Launched in 1999, the network is a partnership between Comcast Corporation and Charter Communications. CSS carries a full slate of college sports programming including over 45 live football games, 110 college football replay games, more than 160 men's and women's live college basketball games and 50 live baseball games, as well as a comprehensive sports news and in-depth sports analysis geared toward fans in the Southeast. CSS is only available on cable.

To the Wofford Community
From President Dunlap

Let our whole community unite in admiration and applause for the spectacular performance of the Terriers in Missoula!

As everyone in the world of football knows, against all odds, the team once again displayed all the characteristics of our mascot: precision, determination, intelligence, tenacity, and heart. The next playoff game will take place this coming Saturday here at Gibbs Stadium against the University of Richmond, yet another institution much larger than ours and another challenge that many tens of thousands around the country will be following. Every loyal son and daughter of Wofford should plan to be there.

GO TERRIERS

Wofford football playoff tickets on sale

Following Saturday's thrilling 23-22 victory over Montana in the first round of the NCAA FCS Playoffs, the Wofford football team now will host the Richmond Spiders at Gibbs Stadium this Saturday in the quarterfinals. Kickoff is slated for 7 p.m. Tickets for the game went on sale at 9 a.m. this morning (Monday, Nov. 26).

Ticket prices are $20 for reserved seats, $20 for adult general admission and $10 for children age 3-12. Wofford students with a valid ID are $10 as well.

The Wofford Athletic Ticket Office (administrative office in the Richardson Building) is open this week (Nov. 26-30) from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Wofford Athletic Ticket Office phone number is 864- 597-4090.

Football game tickets also will be on sale during tonight's men's basketball game against Toccoa Falls. Tip-off is at 6 p.m. and fans who bring four canned food items to the basketball game will receive free admission. Southern Conference championship apparel also will be on sale inside the Benjamin Johnson Arena this evening.

Fans will have the opportunity to purchase tickets to Saturday's playoff game in-person (cash only) at the Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium as well beginning at noon today. Tickets are available at SMA during normal business hours. Only general admission tickets for adults and children are available at SMA.

There are no group ticket discounts for playoff games.

The game will be televised by ESPN, but which member of the ESPN family of networks the game will appear on has not been announced.

Stephen Strickland Wins Second Place

Details: Congratulations to Stephen Strickland (sophomore double major in physics and mathematics, emphasis in computational science) on winning Second Place in the Student Research Contest of the 2007 Consortium for Computing Sciences in Colleges Southeastern (CCSC-SE) Conference. Based on a poster presentation and other criteria of excellence, CCSC-SE referees selected five finalists to give full presentations of their work and from these selected the top three winners. Stephen's poster and talk, "An Examination of Martian Topographical Dichotomy Using SHARAD Data and an Analysis of Martian Gullies for Future Campaigns," were on his summer internship research at NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif. His poster is on display in the Olin foyer.

NASA Internship Opportunities

Details: Are you a science major with a good GPA? If so, you might be interested in applying for a summer internship at a NASA lab. Over the past few years, about fifteen Wofford students have obtained such internships. All have obtained funding from a lab and/or the South Carolina Space Grant Commission (SCSGC). NASA Internship Opportunities for 2008 are now posted at <http://www.cofc.edu/~scsgrant/2008internships.html>. If interested, please contact Dr. Angela Shiflet, apply to NASA lab(s), and apply for funding from SCSGC. The SCSGC application, which is due Dec. 14, is under "NASA Student Internships" at <http://www.cofc.edu/~scsgrant/scholar/overview.html>.

Wofford Logo

Wofford College is committed to providing quintessential undergraduate education within the context of values inquiry. As a learning community, we are united by unfettered pursuit of knowledge and the creative search for truth.

Spartanburg, S.C. – Wofford College will present its annual Christmas choral concert Friday, Nov. 30, at 7 p.m. in Leonard Auditorium.

The event was initially scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 1, but was moved to accommodate the football team's quarterfinal match-up against the University of Richmond on Saturday at 7 p.m. in Gibbs Stadium.

The Department of Music will also present Candlelight Carols Sunday, Dec. 2, at 5 p.m. in Leonard Auditorium.

Both concerts are free and open to the public.

Science Research and Education Grant Opportunities

Details: The South Carolina Space Grant Consortium (SCSCG) has announced SCSCG and SC NASA EPSCoR Research and Education Awards Program (REAP) for faculty. The application forms and further information can be found at <http://www.cofc.edu/~scsgrant/research/overview.html> under the heading "Research and Education Awards Program (REAP)." The deadline is Dec. 14. There are several subprograms from which faculty may choose: THE RESEARCH FACILITATION/INITIATION AWARD SUBPROGRAM is intended to provide faculty members with research support for aerospace-related activities, such as (but not limited to) initiating a research project, enhancing an existing research activity, or providing faculty summer support at facilities not covered by existing programs. ($8,000 maximum per award, not including matching funds). THE CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT AWARD SUBPROGRAM will provide funds for faculty members to develop coursework or education materials related to the fields of science and engineering. ($4,000 maximum per award, not including matching funds). TRAVEL AWARD SUBPROGRAM will provide funds for faculty members and students to make short trips to visit federal facilities (especially NASA facilities), to meet with international groups or other Space Grant campuses and to a lesser extent to present results at professional meetings ($2,000 maximum per award, not including matching funds). If interested in applying, please contact Angela Shiflet, Wofford's representative to the SCSGC, as well as filling out an application.

Habitat for Humanity

Details: Habitat for Humanity of Spartanburg needs your help during the month of December. From now through the week of 12/16 any time you could spend would be greatly appreciated! Most houses are in the final stages of building with painting being a #1 priority. If you need a study break and would like to do some physical labor for an hour or two this would be well worth your time! Contact me for more details.

“The Academic Bowl”
Wofford College vs. University of Richmond
7 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 1, 2007
Gibbs Stadium, Wofford College
Spartanburg, S.C.

Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C., and the University of Richmond in Richmond, Va., are a little more than 350 miles apart – not too far away for Richmond fans to travel this Saturday to watch the two battle it out on the gridiron in the second round of the NCAA FCS Playoffs.

The two institutions aren’t so far apart in other ways, either.

Both are independent, highly selective liberal arts institutions with exceptional academic profiles. Both have long histories and rich traditions.
